from our hearts, to your souls, before all of our eyes
FAMILY GROOVE KITCHEN
09 03 94
existence as embodied beings is purely momentary - what are one hundred years in eternity? surely, we can share all of lifes dignities if we shatter our chains of egotism, and melt into the ocean of humanity. a wiseman once said "the man who thinks he knows everything, knows nothing, while the man who knows he knows nothing, knows everything. yes indeed we have so much to learn from each other... be patient & forgiving, stay positive... help us set our house of happiness into perpetual motion..... one world, our future